STOKE

– Crafted by Hand –

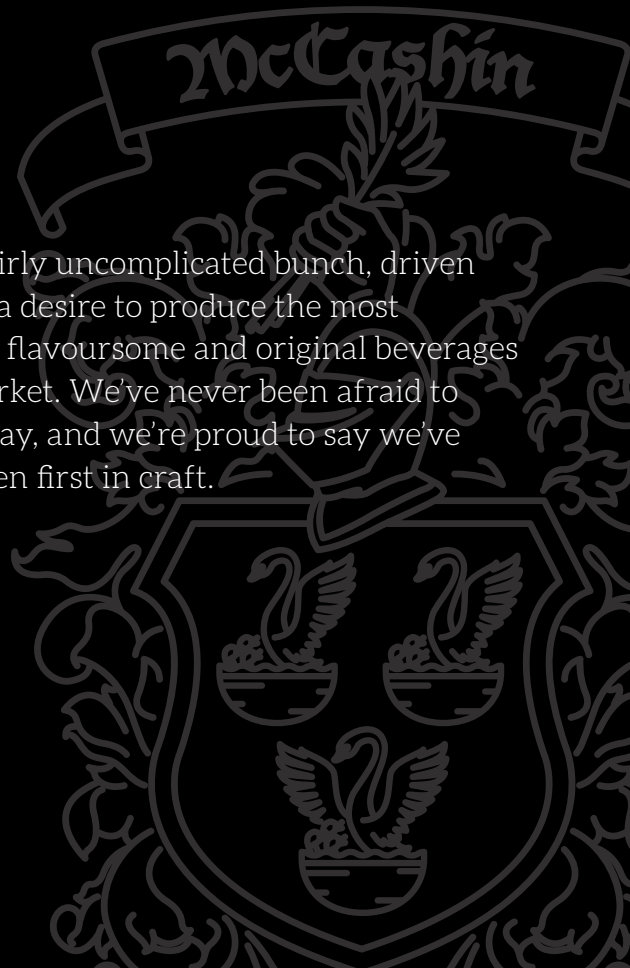

First in Craft

Since the early 80s, The McCashin Family have been challenging the status quo, doing things our own way to produce a range of exquisitely crafted beverages from the finest natural ingredients.

Perched at the top of the South Island in New Zealand's sunniest spot, we utilise the stunning natural resources at our disposal. Our brewers are innovative in their approach, always evolving and pushing the boundaries to create our unique beers, mouthwatering ciders, and a distinctive range of non-alcoholic beverages.

We're a fairly uncomplicated bunch, driven purely by a desire to produce the most satisfying, flavoursome and original beverages on the market. We've never been afraid to lead the way, and we're proud to say we've always been first in craft.

The Brewer's Story

Stoke beer is hand crafted in Nelson at our family brewery that bottled its first craft beer back in 1981. Full of the very best hand-selected malts, hops, yeast and our own Palaeo artesian water that has been traced back to the ice age. Good beer takes time, so Stoke is small-batch brewed and left to mature naturally.

As brothers and second generation brewers we're respectful of tradition and refuse to add sugar, additives or preservatives. We won't compromise on quality.

Here's to good health!

The Stoke Manifesto

There's a beer that redefines craft from a family that's not afraid of getting hands on. Using traditional methods handed down through generations from the family of craft beer pioneers, they've had a hand in the beer game for over 30 years. With only the best natural ingredients, selected by hand (of course), and nothing artificial added, along with some serious handywork and a passion for excellence. Brewed to perfection. Crafted by hand.

The Range

2 Stoke

As lovers of beer we don't believe in sacrificing taste, which is why our 2Stoke, low alcohol beer still boasts the full flavour of a 'real beer'. Golden amber in appearance, light in body, and soft and fruity to the palate, 2Stoke is for those who want to watch their alcohol intake but still crave the satisfaction of a finely crafted beverage.

We make 2Stoke using the same exacting standards and proven methods that we employ across our entire range, using Nelson's famous organic hops, premium malt and bespoke yeast, tank conditioning it for more than three weeks to produce that unmissable honey aftertaste.

We use premium, locally-sourced hops, pale malt and a touch of wheat, tank conditioning the brew over three weeks to perfect the balance between the malty sweetness and the lingering bitterness which all fine lagers possess. Remaining as true to the most natural process as possible, Stoke Lager is an all round favourite and an ideal thirst quencher for a hot summer's day.

Pilsner

New Zealand Pilsners have redefined “refreshing” by layering flavoursome hops over a crispy, bittered lager base. Ours will land you in picturesque Nelson with its aromatic hop finish, the grassy notes and fresh aroma evoking images of classic Kiwi summers and endless hours of fun in the sun.

Employing extra-pale malt for that nutty finish, and an extended cold conditioning period to deliver a unique spin on the classic Pilsner, we've used the finest natural ingredients and relentless attention to detail to create a brew, which is as invigorating and inspiring as it is vibrant and vivacious. It has a good malty character that is evenly balanced by its crisp bitterness.

IPA

The history of India Pale Ale is a rich and vibrant one, which began in England in the 1800s. Using premium hops from the Nelson region, including Pacific Gem, Cascade, Motueka and Styrian Golding, we've added our own chapter to that story, crafting a thirst-quenching ale perfect for a warm summer's day. Our IPA is slanted more towards an English IPA than an American one.

Bespoke yeast, 14,000 year-old Palaeo water and lightly toasted malt (no artificial additives or colouring) create a crisp, fruity taste with honey and citrus undertones. Tank conditioned over four weeks to enhance the smooth, caramel sweetness, our Stoke IPA has a touch of lightness to it but is a step up from our Pilsner in regards to the intensity of hops.

Amber

A hint of honey, strong biscuit tones and a soft, velvety-smooth finish that always leaves you wanting more. These are the key attributes of Stoke Amber, a beer crafted from Nelson's finest organic hops and our own bespoke yeast, and tank conditioned for more than three weeks.

Full bodied with a malty, toasted aroma, this well balanced brew is underpinned by toasted malt and soft caramel tones described by the brewers as a bit like a barley sugar. It's refreshingly balanced by a slight zing. Smooth on the palate and surprisingly complex, there's simply no substitute for the amber goodness of this lovingly-crafted beer.

Dark

A uniquely indulgent yet easy drinking dark ale, Stoke Dark features hints of sweet caramel and molasses mixed with the unmistakable bitterness of fresh coffee and roasted malt. Bold and inviting, the opaque appearance is interrupted only by the subtle mahogany tinge, while the smooth finish is sure to warm the soul.

Stoke Dark is brewed using Nelson's finest organic hops, our own bespoke yeast, 14,000 year-old Palaeo water and nothing less than a blend of six hand-selected malts. It's been crafted the 'old fashioned' way, with no artificial additives or colouring to deliver a delicious tasting, complex beer.
